

Mayor Schmitz Would Like to be Governor of California.

The KNAVE

How Governor Pardee Was Sized Up in Parade--Livernash's Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, September 17.—Politics now seems to hold just one local problem. It is the question, Who will the Republicans nominate in the Fourth District? Just now it all depends on Congressman Livernash, Democrat.

Mr. Livernash is to be given the Union Labor nomination. Mayor Schmitz and Abe Ruef, who control the Union Labor party just now have arranged for that because W. R. Hearst urges it. The Democrats will nominate Livernash. With the Union Labor endorsement his re-election seems a cinch.

That is why the eminent Republicans are dodging the nomination. They do not want to go up against defeat. Tom Riordan shied away from the honor. Treasurer McDougald would have none of it. Auditor Bachr said "nay, nay." Even Julius Kahn, who is out down to take almost anything in politics, was thriflily afraid to take that nomination. Will Davis thought and thought and thought. Then he said no. It looked as if General Stone would be forced to take the unenvied job of "fall guy."

But Livernash is a peculiar man. He cannot be counted on to fill the ordinary political role. He has said that he will not accept the Union Labor nomination. He does not agree with Schmitz. He thinks the Mayor is crooked and corrupt. He insists on denouncing Ruef.

is his boast that he is not doing politics but is keeping his conscience. So may not take that nomination.

Then what? Why the Republicans will be falling over one another to get the party nomination they have so contemptuously declined. Davis will take it with a rush. Riordan will recover his health in a jiffy. Kahn could not be restrained. Bachr and McDougald would be eager. Poor General Stone, the last resort, like Italiano, would "gotta no show." So it is a very entertaining problem whether Livernash will stick to his conscience and put away his election, or let his conscience go hang and take the job.

Up from the South come the Democrats with a candidate for Governor. The Democrats of the South are even more infrequent than those of Alameda County; but they are bumptious and persistent. They never lose a chance to take a political trick by reason of modesty. They are in politics all the time. Just now they are thinning way ahead.

They admit that in November President Roosevelt will carry Los Angeles city by at least 5000 majority, with double those figures or more for the county. But they say that in December, just one month later, Mayor Snyder, the man of the pink whiskers, will be re-elected by from 3000 to 5000. This is to be his fourth term. Those Southern Democrats say:

"Can you offer anything to beat that?"

Of course Snyder might be defeated this time. Then all the scheme would glimmering. But the Southern Democrats dream of Snyder's continued success; and the past gives them some warrant for their dreams. Of course, if their dreams come true, they will be able to present Snyder as the logical candidate for the situation.

Mayor Schmitz has a careful eye open for the Republican nomination for Governor. To make his play for the nomination good, he is going out on the stump for President Roosevelt and the G. O. P. That already has been arranged. Your friend Victor H. Metcalf, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, fixed that in his quiet way. It has been suggested that Schmitz can get more votes in other States than he can in California. He looks the part of the Mayor of a great city, and he is, with the exception, the only workingman Mayor to be re-elected. So it is the program to send him into some of the doubtful States, where he may be able to call the labor vote in his musical way, much as the Pied Piper of Hamlin Town called after him the rats and the children.

Meantime there is a quiet game playing to the end that Assessor Washington Dodge may be the next Mayor of San Francisco. I am told that the Post, Bulletin and Chronicle are committed to this plan and that Gavin McNab is fanning it. As part of the play the Citizens' Alliance and Merchants' Association are monkeying with the fake prosecution of stuffers at the recent primary. They hope to tangle Schmitz and Ruef and Jim O'Brien in this mess and so leave the way clear for McNab's supremacy and the nomination of Dodge.

A chap who knows that Schmitz wants to be Governor said the other day that he would at least look like a Governor. The Mayor is a handsome man—nobody can gainsay that. But the remark was prompted by the appearance of our own Governor Pardee in the King's Templar parade of last week. That appearance has caused no end of comment.

Pardee was in close contrast to the Earl of Euston. The Earl looked "class." He may have been sweating like all the furies under his ermine robes, but his demeanor was that of the Frost King. Pardee wore a slouch hat and looked like a slouch. A woman in front of me pointed him out to her children and said he was the Governor. The children would not believe her. In their innocence they expected a Governor to look like an Earl—a belted Earl, if you please—like belted Will o' th' North, the first of all the Howards. They couldn't understand that a man with weedy whiskers, a white tie and a slouch hat could be Governor of a great and patriotic State.

It may be remembered that when President Roosevelt was here Governor Pardee welcomed him in the broad glare of day in an opera hat—one of those collapsible things intended only for the festivals of night. But Roosevelt thought highly of Pardee. He saw behind the mask. He told his traveling companion, President Murray Butler of Columbia College, that he considered Pardee a fine man.

"I can't stand those whiskers," was Butler's only comment.

Writing of Pardee reminds me how he was lured into the "Sammy box" at the "Wizard of Oz" show in Chicago. That was the box reserved for the guy of the evening. At a point in the extravaganza the saucy soubrette began singing something about Sammy—a pleading, inviting, suggestive something about "When you come wooing, there's something doing around my heart." Winks and wiles went with the song. It was sung to that Sammy box, and the joke of the town was to get some Reuben into the box and have the song sung at him. Pardee was the Reuben in Chicago. Colonel Webb worked him into the box. The laugh was on the Governor of California.

Now the "Wizard of Oz" is coming here, and the laugh is to be on San Francisco. The success of that show depends upon Montgomery and Stone. They are the greatest dunces in the business. Without them as the scarecrow and the tin man in the show is waste paper. But they are not with the company that is to be worked off upon the often deluded San Francisco public. That is the way the theatrical bunko-stealers work us very often.

And Dave Montgomery belongs to San Francisco. He used to be a barkeeper at the Cafe Royal. Then he took his dancing legs to the stage. He picked up Stone in Texas and managed him into a double team. Now Stone has become greater than his discoverer.

Montgomery was at the Orpheum a couple of years ago. He left behind him a drink that was temporarily famous as "a Montgomery." Dave found that the lime juice in a gin rickey put a crimp in his intestines. So he left out the lime juice. Gin and soda became known as "a Montgomery." Many of the barkeepers recognize it to this day. But Dave Montgomery and Stone, his find, are not to be with the Wizard of Oz as it is to be shown in San Francisco.

Judge Coffey has been showing the dear public how the law works one way for the rich and another for the poor. The Dolbeer will contest depositions are being taken behind closed doors. Miss Warren is given the extreme benefit of the court's protection, though Hiram and Albert Johnson rage and demand publicity. The action of the Judge in this matter has put a kink in his popularity. No such favor would be accorded the poor in his court.

RECLAMATION ON THE HARBOR

PLACE FOR BIG LUMBER YARD BEING PREPARED BY WATER FRONT COMPANY.

The Oakland Water Front Company has entered upon the reclamation of the most easterly place of its water front holdings, comprising about ten acres, situated on the north side of the harbor and south of the First Street wharf track. When the work of reclamation shall be completed, the property will be leased to a heavy lumber concern, the name of which has not yet been disclosed.

GOOD FOR THE POOR.

"And the last, in greatest clinching thought of mind and sweetest still, impulse of my sympathy and soul will be, that I have been a factor in providing a vast amount of work for the poor, good wages, in the expenditure of such an enormous amount of labor, and the inestimable amount of labor will follow the development of the city after the sure and certain success of September 27 election for bonds in Oakland."

GOOD FOR OAKLAND WELL.

"We must have our fair city all that a true admirer should wish her to be. She must grow, she must be made attractive, she must be decked out in a becoming manner, she must have flowers, parks, and all the powers of all that is required to fit her to check with the glow of health and beauty. Carry out this idea in all its phases and belongings and then without hesitating, you conclude that all this requires money. Yes, and if you will have it this way, you must pay for it, and then if you wish you can dispose of your fair one, with profit and pleasure. If you do not wish to pay, and receive the fruits of the labors of the above, then I give you the privilege of the fairest, most beautiful Oakland—fairest Queen of all."

HAND CART MEN HAVING TROUBLE.

NEW YORK September 7—Trouble is again brewing among the push cart peddlers of the East Side who claim they are being victimized by a recently formed combination of stablemen. The latter term is applied to owners of push carts who rent them out at a fixed daily rate and maintain underground element houses storage places for the carts where they lie at night.

Sixty seven stablemen each owning from 50 to 300 carts have organized and according to the peddlers have demanded rates from 10 and 20 cents to 10 cents a day. The peddlers declare they could make little profit at the old rate and if they have no place to keep carts are still compelled to pay the higher rates or quit. They are planning to ask the city authorities for a public place where they may maintain stables of their own.

W. BASSETT SAYS CAPTAIN IS PARTIAL AND SOCIETY A FAILURE.

ment of all Chronic Diseases.

Editor TRIBUNE—The writer of this article is not one who has any personal grievance against the organization names, but one who has long felt that it was someone's duty to expose to those who do not see, the necessity of a reformation in the Congregational Cadet Corps of Oakland.

The Corps was organized May 29, 1904, with about thirty fellows. They were all boys, and so did not care about once to take part in their organization and attempted to keep out objectionable fellows. Fellows that were not all boys, and who did not need a Cadet Corps to bring them into the church. They failed in this and with this failure there began the downfall of the Cadet Corps. At the start the respect and esteem in which the captain and his wife were held was not commanded by him. This state of affairs was mainly brought about by his persistence in forcing into the corps the kind of boy who is not wanted anywhere. This caused a breach which has never been overcome—the old members, the real boys, and the workers on one side, and the captain's "snobs" on the other.

At their first annual encampment at Point Reyes, the old members tried to stop the captain's favorites from being first in the march. The "boofers" as they were then called, the "Boofers" as the first the captain's favorites to be chosen more than all others. The "Boofers" became the heart and spirit of the corps. If anything was to be accomplished, the "Boofers" generally did it.

During this period the Cadet Corps Army Association was formed and shares sold among the friends of the boys.

Enough money was raised this way to start the Army Association raw material, etc., near Jefferson. It was at this time that the "Boofers" were born. During the struggle for the Army the "Boofers" not only as a whole, but individually, sold more share than any one else in the Corps.

The "Boofers" are made up a most entirely of privates, though they are the oldest members in the corps. The captain's reason for this is that they do not like the officers and therefore cannot tell.

The truth about this matter is that they are the only fellows in the corps who are brave enough to say what they think and say it strong. They are the best drilled fellows and sad as it may seem to the Captain they also have time to see his great mistakes. They drill during drill time and rough-house afterward.

On the Army side, the raw material, etc., near Jefferson, the "Boofers" are the ones that are doing the most. Now and then, in the Army, the "Boofers" hold the captain's children all evening and show him where he has hit enough.

One of the captain's right hand men has found a get-rich-quick scheme.

The Army Association through the captain, gives this fellow ten dollars a month and the "Boofers" are told their uttermost to find out what he gets. In fact, to the present time they find that he reaches the Army only at night, and either lights the lights or sweeps out the captain's insurance office.

The captain's insurance office is another paper-thin imposition to the corps. About every fellow has a share in the building, and not one of them were notified that it was built for a second class insurance office.

Now, the captain is to be expelled from the corps.

His offense was that he really rose when a tea he asked the boys, who had any objections to make, to rise again. They told him this. This fellow is one of the oldest members of the corps, the best drilled and, of course, a private.

He has done more for the organization than anyone else. He bought ten shares of the Army Association.

He is a very upright, plain-looking man.

Now, the other members of the corps. During the first which was recently held by the corps, this fellow continued, through the kindness of his compatriots, twenty dollars worth of foodstuffs and now he is in danger of expulsion.

The insurance business seems to be good, and what puzzles the boys who are not aware enough to take interest is, What does the Cadet Corps money go to? One year ago the rents went to the Police. It cost each boy twelve dollars, including rent, taxes, and heat. This year the rents were mostly carried with them, i.e., N. S. R. R. to give them passes, and the tents were far inferior to those used the previous year. For the last trip the boys paid five dollars and a half. Where did the money go?

The corps, as seen by the church from the outside, is a success, but to those inside who know, it is a dismal failure. The corps is not a success to the captain's hobby. Officers are better drill men than the privates and all are favorites of the captain. The whole organization is what they call in a potato "rake" and it would take two or three "Boofers" to settle and a man for a captain to clean it out.

AGAINST REOPENING OF IROQUOIS THEATRE

CHICAGO, September 17.—An appeal to the clergy of Chicago to arouse a feeling of condemnation for the reopening next Monday of the Iroquois Theatre has been issued by the Iroquois Memorial Association. The organization held a special meeting, at which an open letter of protest, at which an open letter of protest, was prepared. This recounts the fire horror in the theater last December and urges the ministers to oppose the further use of the building as a place of amusement.

More than 3000 teachers last spring signed a similar petition, and at the same time thousands of signatures of citizens were received.

While the association was preparing its protest the theater building was being inspected by city officials. Building Commissioner Keeling will make a final examination today, when it is believed a decision will be issued.

President James J. Reynolds of the Memorial Association asked Acting Corporation Counsel Sexton for permission to have the association's petition made a public protest. The theater before a hearing is granted. Mr. Sexton said he thought the plan would not be opposed.

The clubs of children which are working for the Iroquois Memorial Emergency Hospital Fund have raised $1500 in the last two months.

NOTES FOR THE WOMEN

CONCERNING WOMEN

Mrs Alfred Stein was born in Chicago, the mother of daughter born August 19 at Mr. Stein's home in Chever Walk, London. Mrs. Stein's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Peter Hausey of Indianapolis, and she is related to Miss Wright, Mrs. Hausey, who is a prominent member of the tennis club of London, which she serves as one of the executive committee. Her husband is a son of W. J. Stein, and has recently published a book, "Japan," the Japanese, which is meeting with a large sale in England. It is due to the interest in our country in politics. Miss Wright is now passing a few weeks at the home of their daughter.

The heaviest girl in the world of her age is Nedra Milford, of Keuka Park, 14 years old and weighing 100 pounds. She has gained eight pounds in three years. She is in declining active physical, and morally bright is my girl of her age. Her father and mother are of normal weight and her sister and brother less than ordinary size.

Mrs. Parker, wife of the 10-year-old cousin in Atlanta, has paid the other day in Paris to the Palace of the first emperor of China, his tomb, and removed the remains of the great man to America. The expression of honor for her husband's conduct in so doing will be reflected in the name of the city, which will be known as the Chinese Tomb. He himself will leave at the time of the funeral.

In connection with the birth of a son to be born while S. T. Estlin corresponds in the papers of the United States, a mystery is in mind which is a secret to all but the author. It is still a secret. It is known that a doctor in the Russ family has some of the salts of the Russ in a number of small samples, and it is believed that he will be left upon an iron sink as it will always be held every time and the last taste of that sink will be worse than the first. In the morning wash off the hand and if upon examination any rusty pieces are found repeat the process of rubbing with sand paper, or if you have an old tooth brush, use it in the same direction. Then to keep it so every time the dishes are washed rub a piece of soap all over the iron work and wash off thoroughly. Rinse with cold water hot is best and wire dry. Never omit the last step of drying as it will be impossible to keep the iron smooth and in this best condition unless this is done. Water may be poured in the iron water and the sink to run over the iron work and wash off thoroughly.

Lemon juice or vinegar will be very effective, and the lemon juice when eaten in glasses or pickle should be poured down the drain and thrown into the sink.

On leaving home on a number of days or weeks in the sink through which I have had to leave it with no easy mind for upon your return you will find the sink left by S. T. Estlin after you have washed of the dirt.

Wipe with a sponge and wash with a hot wet cloth, rubbing the bit of soap over all the iron and wash off well then rinse with cold water. Now wire dry, grease will clean and not keep scale and leave the iron.

It is also a plumber's old method fifteen years of housekeeping have proved its truth, that kerosene must never be left upon an iron sink as it will always be held every time and the last taste of that sink will be worse than the first. In the morning wash off the hand and if upon examination any rusty pieces are found repeat the process of rubbing with sand paper, or if you have an old tooth brush, use it in the same direction. ALMAY LIP STICK

A first-class lipstick is after all the best covering for a bath room floor that is not of the tile variety. Linoleum and best grade cloths showing a white grained and small flowered pattern are best. The best look like old white lace. If one of these is broken, however, it can be easily mended by cutting the two ends apart from each other and then sewing them together. The cloth cotton clothing should be used for bathing. On a tiled bathroom floor the scene to the eyes is a picture of disorder, especially if the floor is not perfectly clean. The curtain should be drawn across the tub and the door of course to make it private.

Fruitvale will be materially benefited by San Francisco's expenditure of $17,000,000 for public improvements.

Because the money is to be thus expended will benefit mechanics, laborers and persons of all kinds and business men and others to have a surplus with which to buy homes and they can buy such homes in Fruitvale better and cheaper than any other place at the same time, and for the following five reasons:

Third—The same advantages that are enjoyed in the city namely, water gas, electric lights, fine roads, bicycles and vehicles.

Fourth—No city taxes, only 8 cents and one-half.

HOW TO PICK A WIFE.

U. C. Professor Tells the Freshmen Not To Be Fools.

Creates a Sensation By His Plain Talk to the Boys.

REINHARDT September 17—The lecture set on in college circles is about the straightforward manner in which George E Reinhardt professor of hygiene at the University of California lectured the men of the freshmen class at the University today. His address was on personal hygiene. It is devoted to the prevention of disease and to the promotion of health. He is a man of sentiment and said it is no wonder that this is one of us who are unable to appreciate that we have eyes and nose and ears and a sense of taste and smell. If we could only select the best among us for the production our future citizens what a difference it would be.

These are serious matters. You never may be sending sons and daughters to your own college days.

Then it is mind that sentiment is not the only thing to think about when you go to enter into wedlock.

Do not be playing or your heart.

It is the lot of your common sense.

Some men marry women they know not how to take good wives.

These boys have come along in the outfit blithely and do not care.

Until too late they have made mistake.

It is all right to think that there is only one in this world for you but you should be very careful in selecting this person. When a man selects a girl or a woman in whose family there is some hereditary disorder he is either too far or has no regard for his partner.

Luring on the most brilliant personal life plays a part in his life. Dr. Reinhardt exhorted his students to ignore it at first. After a while he turned his attention to the schoolroom.

He said that the whole agitation is the result of what they call the MINISTER WILL BE TRIED.

Rev. F. A. Morrow Will Have to Face Grave Charges.

PACIFIC GROVE September 17.—Rev. F. A. Morrow, whom no charges have been made will be tried by the Methodist conference.

A committee of revs. investigated his charge yesterday afternoon. One of the committee said:

"We will report to the conference tomorrow morning," he said, "and ask that Morrow be speedily tried. We are of the opinion that Morrow has been guilty of impropriety, for which he ought to be expelled from our body, and our church. We shall prepare and present our charges to the conference."

The general charge we shall ask that he be tried upon the trial board of fifteen members and they will decide the case.

On the present evidence it appears that he is guilty and must immediately be suspended. Rev. F. A. Neelham, Morrow's life-long friend, has consented to act as Morrow's counsel. The investigating counsel has not yet been chosen.

BOARD OF WORKS MEETS.

POOR LUMBER FURNISHED— MUST NOT CUT SHADE TREES DOWN.

TRIBUTE OF FLOWERS TO GAELIC DANCERS.

Last night there was a pleasing incident at the presentation of the play of Robert Emmet at the Liberty Theatre which increased the pleasure of the large audience. It was the presentation of floral tributes to Joseph P. Kennedy, a Gaelic dancer, in the Gaelic dancing scene in the third act. To the ladies were given two large and beautiful bouquets, while Mr. Kennedy's name was reciprocated in the traditional O'neill of Act No. 5, and a flower garland six feet in height, which was the gift of the Gaelic Dancers. The flowers were sent in memory of the contributions of heartily relations existing between the American and Mr. Kennedy and the Irish repudiated the Gaelic Club's representation of what Mr. Kennedy had done for Ireland, a city state. Both tributes were deserved. It may be said that the dancing of the first mentioned is without doubt the best that has ever been exhibited here bringing down the house very high.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., September 17.—In the Superior Court today J. J. Newham sentenced James McNeil Clark, 28, streetcar operator, guilty at the last term of court of taking $50 each. This is the amount of the bribe they were charged with taking.

NO CONCESSION TO BOILERMAKERS.

WINNIPEG, Man., September 17.—The Canadian Pacific management does not make any concessions to the 500 boilermakers and helpers who are out along the lines from East Williamsport to Laggan, B. C., demanding 25 cents instead of 23 cents an hour. The provincial government has fixed the rate of wages and this has been ratified by the federal government.

ROBBED AN HOTEL.

W. M. Duncan, proprietor of the Adelphi Hotel at Point Richmond, made a formal protest to the police chief of Police Headquarters this morning that his place was entered last night by burglars who stole $12 from the safe, the latter machine and a quantity of coins and jewels.

An attempt was made by prying open the safe, but failing in the endeavor, the total loss will aggregate about $100.

WILL WAIT FOR RUSS SHIPS.

Uncle Sam Will Be Prepared to Meet Any Strangers.

WASHINGTON, September 17.—Instructions were sent to Rear Admiral Godrich at San Francisco today directing him to detach one ship from his squadron when he leaves for Magdalena bay to hold the autumn target practice. The vessel detached will remain in the vicinity of San Francisco prepared to enforce neutrality should either Russian or Japanese vessels put in at the Golden Gate.

The Novoe Vremya has also been ordered to remain at Bremerton in readiness for the same duty.

The department has no information that there are other Russian cruisers bound for the Pacific Coast, but there is talk to that effect around San Francisco, and it was thought advisable to be ready at the last moment if we feel that it may be necessary.

It having been fully decided that the general charge will be heard in the trial board of fifteen members and they will decide the case. On the present evidence it appears that they will hold night sessions and try him immediately. Rev. F. A. Neelham, Morrow's life-long friend, has consented to act as Morrow's counsel. The investigating counsel has not yet been chosen.

CHINA GETTING BOLD BY COSTIGAN JAP SUCCESS.

Negotiations Are Going on Behind the Scenes—Russia is Watching.

ST. PETERSBURG, September 17.—Important developments regarding China's attitude toward the belligerents is anticipated here in well-informed quarters.

There are rumors of closer relations between China and Japan, of the possibility of the Japanese turning over Port Arthur when captured to China, of their restoring Manchuria to the Chinese, etc.

CHINESE BOLDER.

Although these reports are not confirmed they lead to quite a general belief that some sort of negotiations are going on behind the scenes of which the outside world has little cognizance. The Russ says it believes the Japanese successes are emboldening the Chinese government more and more, and that they are prompting such diplomatic steps as China never dreamed of before. Since the Japanese occupation of New Chwang and direct contact between the Chinese and Japanese they have seemed to quickly reach an understanding, the occupation of neutral territory evoking no protest.

NEW PHASE.

The Russ expects the war to take on a phase, as Chinese neutrality vanishes, which the powers in their agreement to preserve China's neutrality, cannot ignore. Moreover, the Russ believes the situation will call for deeds and not words. It concludes:

"We need not be unduly alarmed, however. The interference of China will scarcely be to our disadvantage."

AMBASSADOR McCormick is promoted to the command of the fifth army corps. He formerly commanded the Twenty-seventh infantry division.

At the meeting of the Board of Public Works yesterday afternoon, the question of awarding a contract for repairing three fire engines at a cost of $6,500 did not come up, as City Engineer Turner was not present. City Attorney McElroy expressed it as his opinion that the Board should advertise for bids, call for specifications and then decide what boiler was best. The question involved is, shall the work be done by a local firm or by the American Engine Company?

The bills of the Sunset Lumber Company were held up by the Board, on the complaint of Deputy Superintendent of Streets Holmes. He stated that the lumber received was knotty, distorted and not worth more than $3 a thousand feet. The contract calls for plain lumber of the first grade. Mr. Holmes states that the Sunset Company was not even supplying fifth-grade lumber.

On this showing the Board of Works held up the bills and directed Mr. Holmes to make his purchases at the Humboldt Lumber Company.

Another "kick" was registered by City Electrician Babcock, who stated the Telephone Company in stringing wires often cut down limbs of trees against the property of property owners and much to the detriment of Mayors. They said he had received letters of the same import. He stated he had ordered the police to arrest any of the women who wantonly cut down the shade trees.

There was no business before the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners.

REMARKABLE RESULTS OBTAINED AT TARGET PRACTICE.

Four People Hurled to Ground and One Killed.

BALLWIN Mo., September 17.—In endeavoring to turn out to avoid a farmer's wagon an automobile containing two men and two women was precipitated down a thirty foot embankment here today, killing one of the occupants and injuring the others.

The dead: John Kalleen, New York City.

The injured: Edgar Parkhurst, Ballwin, seriously.

Mrs. Lou Marquitz, St. Louis, severely.

Miss Nellie Marquitz, St. Louis, slightly.

The automobile was moving at a rapid rate when, on turning a sharp curve, Kalleen, who was acting as chauffeur, noticed a farmer's wagon coming toward them.

There appeared to be no time to avoid hitting the wagon, so Kalleen turned out, but the auto's wheels slipped and the machine slid down the embankment, turning over a several times. Kalleen was caught beneath the automobile and crushed.

It is believed that Parkhurst and Miss Lou Marquitz will recover.

VIOLENT DOG IS AT LARGE.

BERKELEY, September 17.—A warrant was issued this morning for the arrest of W. C. Moran, one of the most prominent business men of the city, who is accused of laying violated the ordinance requiring vicious dogs to be kept safely secured on the owner's premises. The warrant was sworn to by Attorney Richard Lloyd, whose nine-year-old son was bitten by a dog said to have been owned by Moran.

At the present time Moran is in the East and the members of his family declare that the dog in question does not belong to them.

NOT FOR PEACE.

The Novoe Vremya bitterly denounces the suggestion of peace advanced by Meshchersky in the Gazeta, as a means of defeating the selfish ends of Great Britain and Germany, both of whom, M. Meshchersky asserts, are interested in weakening Russia and Japan. The Novoe Vremya announces that the Russ people would not tolerate the self-humiliation of the Emperor before Japan. The Emperor's congratulatory message to General Kuropatkin is regarded as only putting an end to the stories of Imperial displeasure with Kuropatkin's generalship at the battle of Liao Tang.

DISEASE.

Telegraphic reports from the Red Cross show the following proportion of patients suffering from wounds or disease out of the total sent to the hospitals in the area of the military operations:

Cases of severe illness, 10 per cent.

Slight illness, 56 per cent.

Wounded, 34 per cent.

The only epidemic disease noted is dysentery with 6 per cent of cases.

CONTRACT MARRIAGE.

But there was more convincing proof. She found a contract of marriage signed by her husband and the same Mary Johnson. In the contract it stated that he had separated from his wife as they had never been legally married and he would now agree to recognize Mary Johnson as his wife and she would consider Pedersen her husband.

When Pedersen missed this document he was very wrath and the witness stated he threatened to kill her if she did not return to him. But she had taken it to Attorney Walsh's office and he immediately had it photographed and then gave it back to her, so she could return it to him. Pedersen then tore the contract up, but those pieces were afterwards carefully gathered together by Miss Pedersen, who pasted them on a sheet of paper with sufficient success to enable the photographic copy to be identified as a true copy of the original.

When Miss Pedersen had finished the narrations of the facts of the story Pedersen acting for himself cross-examined her on a number of points, upon which he brought out more facts, but did not successfully combat the statements made. At the noon hour he said that he had several witnesses he wished to call in his defense and the matter was continued until next Monday by Judge Ogden.

CELEBRATED ON THEIR WAY EAST.

A unique celebration of the admission of California into the Union was held by a party of Native Daughters en route to the World's Fair at St. Louis, on the 9th instant, on a train passing through Colorado.

An interesting program was rendered under the direction of Miss L. Prentiss, San Jose. Remarks suitable to the occasion were made by those present, Miss Annie M. Pothe of San Francisco acting as chairman.

Refreshments consisting of cake, fruit, nuts and candies were served, and much merriment was caused by the presentation of a large Colorado watermelon by F. W. Haines of Berkeley. Those who participated in the celebration were all young girls, who are many in their new quarters; they will undoubtedly bring trade to the fair, both in entrance money and for souvenirs. The firm are well known throughout the country and are practical in their line of business.

TOWN TALK.

This week's "Town Talk" contains the first of a series of articles by Edwin H. Clough on the Oriental missionaries, the agents of the various religious societies who are making attempts to proselytize the Chinese, and convert them to Christianity. Mr. Clough, during his long stay in the Orient, made a special study of the subject of missions and missionaries, and these articles are the result of his observations. They will interest a large army of thinkers and readers. Harry Cowell has a clever series on the superstitious happenings after death, especially at the end of things, but in reality, but the beginning of further complications. Robert Mace contributes an article on the apathy of the Democratic party in the Presidential campaign. There are stories and poems, and the departments are of great entertainment. The State Fair is editorially criticised. The San Joaquin tells why Ned Greenway wishes to dedicate his life to God; something about San Francisco politics; the passing of an old church, and its historic memories; a dentist's banquet; Horace Vachell's new book, and something about its author; the Board of Pharmacy's examination, etc., etc.

WAIT FOR KOREA

English Officer is Given Orders How to Act.

VICTORIA, B. C., September 16.—The Associated Press correspondent heard Esquimalt today and had a talk with a number of naval men. All express the anxiety that the Russian auxiliary cruiser Korei will be soon seen. It is understood that Commodore Godeffroy received important cable messages last night, but it was impossible to get even an outline of the contents. It is believed they included definite instructions to the commodore should the Korei or other Russian ships put in here for supplies. The opinion is expressed by many men that other Russian vessels will follow the Korei, they will not go far again and the war ends.

H. M. S. Grafton went into dry dock today for cleaning her copper bottom, so as to have everything ready for a quick move out.

BLACK BANKERS.

Brave Woman Manages to Stand Off a Footpad.

NEW YORK, September 16.—Rising to call attention of the Banker's Convention delegates to his race, their progress and their hopes, John Mitchell Jr., president of the Mechanics' Savings Bank of Richmond, Va., the only negro delegate to the convention, disclaimed that any color line was drawn between the better class of white and the better class of blacks.

"It is the black loafers in the South that cause the troubles and persecution of our race, and we despise them as well as do the whites," he said. He thanked the delegates for the kindness of his reception and entertainment at this convention. He said his color had in no way affected his standing as a delegate.

Colonel Lowry, president of the Lowry National Bank of Atlanta, Ga., replied to Mr. Mitchell. He spoke as follows:

"There is no trouble between my race and his race in Georgia. Both the leading white men and the loafing black men are despised in my State. I am glad Mr. Mitchell has spoken and gone on record that the bankers' association draws no color line, and welcome successful bankers, be they white or black, as members."

A resolution was passed directing the secretary of the association to send every United States Senator and Congressman a copy of the resolution adopted by the convention advocating the passage of Senator Lodge's constitutional bill, which provides for change in the consular service.

tion with the bonded debts of other cities of the census of 1900.

OMAHA Nebraska 102,000 population
4,074,000 bonded debt. One excellent feature of Omaha's financial system is the issuance of ten year paving bonds paid for by property owners in ten equal annual installments.

Philadelphia 1,295,000 population $1, paid last July.

Portland Oregon 90,000 population
$710,835 in addition to this bonded debt Portland last year added a levy of a cent on the $100 valuation for the purchase of fire engines. 90 cents on the $100 for street paving.

It will be observed that the population of that city in 1900 was about the same as the present population of

Portland, Oregon, 90,000 population $1,

San Antonio Texas 535,000 population
$1,000,000 which amount $400,000 was voted two cities having substantially the same population should have about the same amount of bonded debt.

There is however a marked contrast in the replies received from the two cities as to the effect the issue of bonds had upon the tax rate. San Antonio reported that the rate had been materially raised while the rate had been materially reduced while —Bond Suggestions.

SWEDISH CLUB IS FOR PROGRESS.

The meeting of the Swedish Club of America last night was almost wholly given over to the consideration of a bond issue of $1,000,000.

The president of the club, George Lundberg, opened the meeting with some appropriate and practical remarks made in the course of which he stated that no one who had examined with any prejudice the merits of the proposed bond issue had been able to find any against the sale of the bonds.

The money thus raised for public provement could bring home to the people of the city a great deal of good.

Mayor Olney was introduced and spoke in part as follows:

This bond issue is to be important in that it will be presented to the people of opinions and to work for bonds.

TEA TABLE

The talk of the tea tables now concerns the two engagements of Miss Evelyn Williamson of Mrs. F. E. Davis. These young girls are engaged to a young Sir Francis so recently. The Misses Davis' mother is still Miss Williamson will not return until next year. We are gratified at the young pretty and interesting news she has with us from Liverpool, it is delightful.

Miss Williamson's engagement was announced at the tea tables a week ago yesterday. It was very exciting. Evelyn Williamson is one of the prettiest girls in Oakland, and our tea tables as well as the rest of us are delighted.

MRS. SMITH TO RETURN

Mr. F. M. Smith and the young ladies of Alton will return from the East until November when they will make another stop at St. Louis.

TRAVELING EASTWARD

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Deering left for Boston on Thursday morning. They will visit the coast of New England and the city of New York. They will then travel to the Hawaiian Islands. Mr. Deering will be greatly missed in the tea tables. His wife, Mrs. Alice McCutcheon, has entered an undergraduate course at the University of California and Miss Hazel Pierrepont has entered an undergraduate course at the University of California. She will live at the dormitory there. While in Boston Mr. and Mrs. Deering will attend the Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Deering left on Friday evening for Boston where they will be seen at the Fair. After a fortnight in Boston Mr. and Mrs. Deering will travel to New York and Frank will spend a few days in the firm in St. Louis. They will return the end of October. Their daughter will spend the time of their absence with Mrs. Deering's mother, Mrs. R. C. Craft.

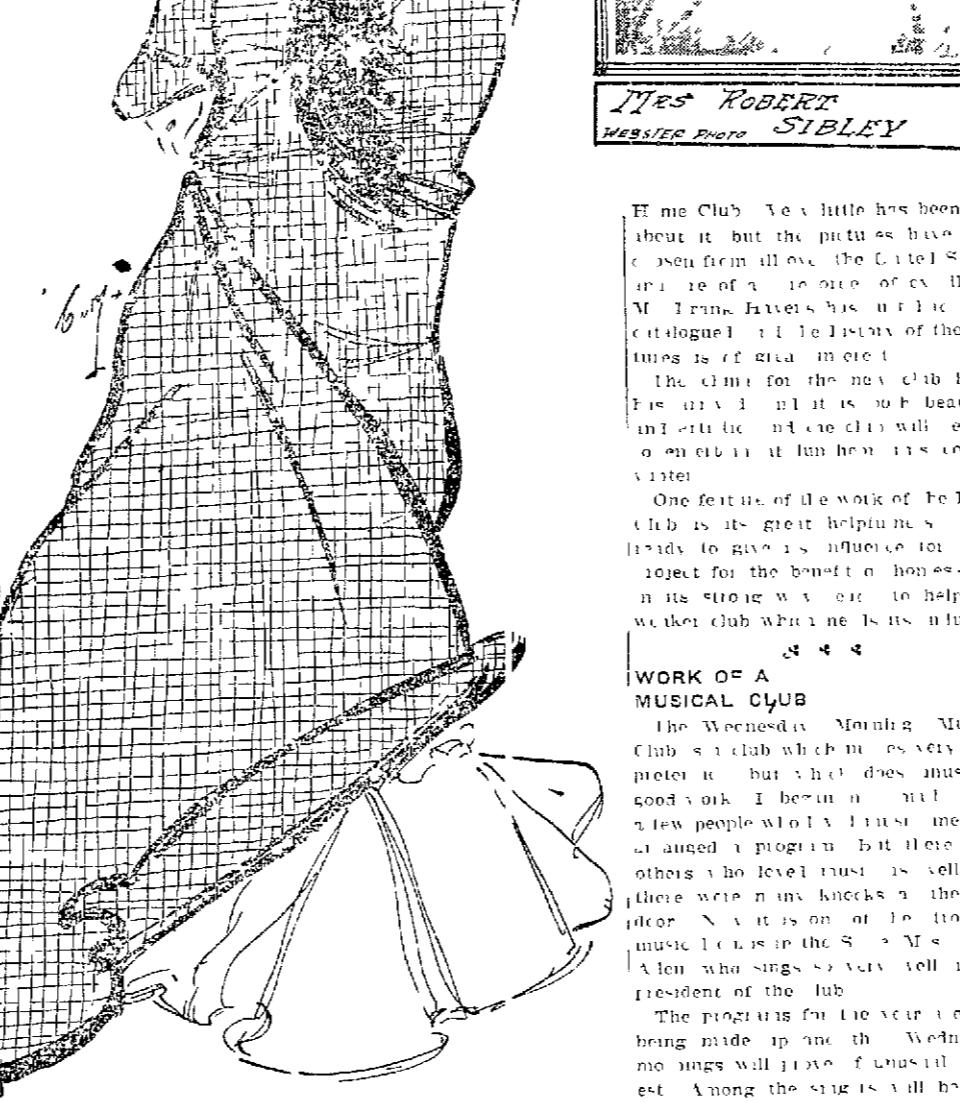

Joseph D. Belding is leaving for New York on Saturday when he will open some of his stores there with the (the) Company. All his friends they expect to have leisure times together.

SAD DEATH OF MR. ALEXANDER

Oakland was plunged into grief at the table news of the sudden death of S. T. Alexander, a citizen of South Africa. To sum up, Mrs. Alexander was with her father but his less than death so far away must have been specially painful to him. The body will not be brought home but will be buried when he died at Mr. Alexander's request. This death will plunge a prominent family in mourning. Mr. Wallace Alexander the only son of the deceased was very recently married and the death is especially painful to him and his bride who had scarcely returned from their wedding journeys. Mr. Alexander leaves a very large estate, and I dare say there will be many

The Club very little has been said about it but the pictures have been chosen from all over the United States and a choice of the best of each. Miss Evelyn Davis has sent them catalogued. The history of the pictures is of great interest.

The name for the new club house has not yet been decided upon but a beautiful name will be given to it.

best man, and the ushers arrived from Los Angeles, and from now until the wedding there will be a constant round of entertainment.

Doctor McNab's mother and sister will arrive from Los Angeles early next week, and they are to be guests at Rosecrest.

Early in the week Miss May Young gives a dinner at Rosecrest to her bridal party, and Doctor McNab is to entertain the bridal party at a dinner in San Francisco.

Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld is planning a very dainty luncheon to be given to this pretty bride-elect, in the palm garden of the Palace Hotel. Mrs. Rosenfeld's guests will include the bride-elect and the young girls of the wedding party, and some of Miss May Young's intimate friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stone are to give a dinner to Miss Young and Doctor McNab, the guests including of course all the members of the wedding party. The dinner is to be followed by an informal dance. In fact the invitations read "A Dinner Dance." It is quite the latest social phase at Newport, in all the large cottages and homes of the social elect, you hear of "the dinner dance." The Stones have a gorgeous house for entertaining in that way, and their basement makes an ideal hall room.

MISS MABEL PIERCE.

DAYS FULL OF GAYETY.

All of this social activity will make the days very full of gayety for his happy bride-elect.

The most beautiful presents are beginning to arrive at Rosecrest, and the wedding gifts bid fair to present a most gorgeous array. It is characteristic of the Islanders that they send the most beautiful wedding gifts, and the Youngs have many warm friends in their Island home.

Mrs. Howard, who was Miss Nellie Young, and Mrs. von Hamer, who was Miss Bernece Young, are both at Rosecrest.

The wedding Thursday evening is sure to present a series of beautiful pictures. And every one is anxious to see the lovely picture of the wedding party, as it moves slowly down the big staircase, which is such an artistic feature of the big hall at Rosecrest. The wedding on Thursday evening will of course be the important social feature of the week.

The Youngs have been so popular here, and have done so much for their friends, that many friendships are clustered about their home, and a true and generous interest is taken in the wedding of the daughter of the household.

One has heard much of Doctor McNab, that it will be very interesting to meet him. Though a young physician he has already scored a great success in his profession, and as many friends are devoted to him which a real is the real test of a man.

Miss May Young is so very sweet and pretty that she's sure to make a lovely bride, and she could not have chosen more charming girls for her attendants than the Misses Bertha Young, Marletta Hayes, Miss McNaughton, and Anita Oliver.

And so those friends happy enough to be invited to the wedding are looking forward to Thursday night to one of the most interesting wedding dates of the winter.

ENGAGEMENTS OF THE WEEK.

The engagements of the week mark interesting chapters of social history. The first engagement announced is that of beautiful Ione Fore and Mr. Eugene Hewlett. Of course the engagement is not a surprise to those who know both the young people, for Mr. Hewlett's devotion has been so frank in evidence that the engagement was regarded as quite a matter of course.

Miss Ione Fore is the third sister of the charming group of young girls in the Fores' household. You are always hearing opinions as to which one of the Fore girls is the prettiest—but they are all beautiful each in her own way. Miss Pauline and Miss Ione Fore have been in Southern California all summer, and returned to town last week, when the engagement was announced.

Mr. Hewlett is a rising young lawyer; he is a graduate of Stanford University, and of the Harvard Law School.

He has many friends among the young people on our side of the bay.

The wedding date has been set for October twentieth, the ceremony to take place at the home of the Fores on Franklin street. Miss Ione Fore has chosen her sister, Pauline, as her maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be charming little Natalie Fore and Miss Ethel Valentine.

The latter is a firm friend of the Misses Fores, and has been away with them for several weeks this summer.

Mrs. John J. Valentine left for the East this week, but Miss Ethel Valentine will remain here until after the wedding of her friend, Miss Ione Fore.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS STARR.

An engagement which was quietly announced in San Francisco this week, is that of Miss Florence Starr and Mr. Joseph Thomas. The Stars took up their residence in San Francisco a couple of winters ago, and since then, have not returned to Oakland. Miss Florence Starr comes over occasionally to tea and other social affairs. Mrs. William Starr was one of the patrons of the popular Thursday Night Club, and Florence Starr was one of the stars of Thursday Night girls, among whom were the Chabots, the Cullins, the Moffats, Miss Ethel Kittridge, Miss Mary Baker.

Mr. Joseph Thomas is a popular young attorney of San Francisco, and one of the recent graduates of Harvard University.

INFORMAL AT HOMES.

Teas and informal at homes are more popular than cards this year—though I suppose we will have the usual schedule of card parties, when the season is fairly under way.

One of the largest teas of the week bids fair to be that given next Friday, when Mrs. Albert A. Pennoyer will entertain her friends at her home in Berkeley. A large number of cards have been sent out to friends in Berkeley, Oakland and San Francisco, and the house will present a bright picture. The Pennoyers travel a great deal, and one hears that Mrs. Pennoyer is going away again. Mr. and Mrs. Pennoyer left their sons in Europe for some months where they had the benefit of foreign travel, and of the educational systems there. They boys are now in Raymond, where they are to spend some time.

The Pennoyer home at Berkeley, is one of the most attractive homes in the lower foothills, and when Mrs. Pennoyer is at home a great many guests are entertained.

At their pretty home is the picture-perfect home of the A. J. Rulstons. It is one of the most artistic residences in all of Berkeley—the dark tones of the shingles give an interesting and restful color effect, and Mrs. Rulston has planned a garden truly quaint and picture-esque. There's a most fascinating bungalow, after the manner of Honolulu verandas, and the garden reminds one of fascinating places abroad—with its shady nooks, its hammocks, and its restful seats, which seem to beckon one to spend a restful hour.

AN INTERESTING TEA.

A long the most interesting of the tie Everson, Miss May Coogan, and the Misses Pierce.

MISS CHRISSIE TAFT WHO WILL SOON RETURN FROM THE EAST.

CHARMING YOUNG GIRL.

One of the very charming young girls of the younger set, is Miss Pauline Crowley, the very pretty daughter of Doctor D. D. Crowley. Miss Crowley is finishing her education at St. Paul Seminary, where she has been a boarder for many months. Miss Crowley, being a school girl, is of course not yet out, but she attended the Knights Templar ball with her father, Doctor Crowley. She wore one of the very exquisite gowns of the evening, and she looked pretty enough to truly deserve the many compliments that came her way.

HAVE TAKEN CASA ROSA.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wakefield have taken Casa Rosa for a year, and will soon make their home on Vernon Heights. "Casa Rosa" is the artistic home built by Mr. Alexander Young for his daughter, Mrs. Fredrik. The Dredges have gone to England where they are to make their permanent home.

Casa Rosa is a unique specimen of Spanish architecture, and all the many details follow Spanish lines.

Mr. Frank Wakefield married Miss Laura Seton of San Diego. They went to the Orient on a wedding trip, and brought back quantities of bric-a-brac, including some very beautiful furniture. So that Casa Rosa is likely to prove a very interesting home.

It is a curious phase of Oakland's social history, that no matter how many days a hostess may announce that she will be at home, every one waits till the last of the "at homes" for the first at homes will represent "frost," and the last at homes "crowds."

The Miller tea was very interesting indeed. Miss May Burdige was always a most attractive girl, and she is now one of the very charming young matrons of the city. She has some beautiful Rousseau gowns, many of them so unique and original that they look like Faristan effects. And each gown has a hat very prettily planned to match it—and the color tones in them are also bright, unique and truly original.

Mrs. Miller wore one of the prettiest of her Rousseau gowns on Wednesday, and she was assisted in receiving by her sister, Winnifred Burdige, and by the Misses Helen Chase, Lucretia Burnham, Jane and Ethel Cullin, Edith and Bonnie Downing.

Mrs. Miller will be "at home" to her friends on next Wednesday.

WILL CLOSE THEIR HOME.

Mrs. Laura Wight and her daughters are to close their home in Oakland and go to Honolulu, where they will take up a permanent residence. Mrs. Wight comes here from the Islands to educate her children. Mr. Wilder Wight is a leading student in the State University, and Miss Leslie Wight is a very charming and interesting girl.

Miss Lila Schlessinger will give an informal tea on next Wednesday, as a good-bye to Miss Leslie Wight. It is to be very informal only intimate friends of Miss Wight to be guests of the afternoon, and of course among them will be Miss Mollie Mathes, Miss Dot-ta Questa, Anita Thomson, Louise Stone, Clarice Lohse, Edith Downing, Bonnie Downing, Frances Williams, Olive Hyde, Marian Ransome, Miss Hoffmann, Miss Bridges, Miss Head, Miss Whitney.

It is the very first engagement to be announced from the younger set of girls, and it has called out many good wishes and enthusiastic congratulations. The date of the wedding of Miss Mary Hyde and Lieut. Hathaway has been set for the early spring.

AN INTERESTING TEA.

Among the most interesting of all the teas of the week, is the one taking place this afternoon at the Hyde residence on Ninth street, when Miss Mary V. de C. Hyde and Miss Catherine Hyde are receiving their young friends.

The tea is interesting because it brings such a touch of romance, as this afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus D. Hyde announce the engagement of their daughter Mary to Lieut. Charles Emory Hathaway.

Miss Mary Hyde is a very charming girl, very young indeed, for her tenth birthday. This year she finished her studies at Miss Head's School, and has not yet had an informal coming out. And now, to the surprise of many of her young friends, one of the happy engagements of the year is announced. The young girls of Miss Mary Hyde's set have had many charming afternoons in her home. For many winters they had the most delightful sewing bees, and were fortunate at the end of the season in selling the proceeds of their hard work, and they made glad the heart of the little children of the West Oakland kindergarten.

All her friends are very fond of charming Mary Hyde, and they are offering her most affectionate good wishes.

Lieut. Hathaway comes of a very delightful and charming Eastern family; he is a cavalry officer and is now stationed in the Yosemite Valley. He comes of a fine family, and with the birth and breeding that beset all the true gentlemen.

The happy story of the engagement was told at the luncheon and at the tea that followed the luncheon.

The luncheon was very handsomely planned. Ten of Miss Hyde's intimate friends, most of them friends from Miss Head's School, were guest at the luncheon. The color scheme was all in yellow, representing the sunny colors. The menu cards followed the color scheme, and the favors were the daintiest of little yellow silk bags.

After luncheon the ten young girls acted as a receiving party to entertain the later guests at the tea.

The guests at the luncheon and tea were: The Misses Gertrude Allen, Natalie Fore, Katherine Bennett, Martha Corbin, Pattie Chickering, Marjorie Coogan, Mabel Cooley, Jessie Craig, Helen Sutton, Eleanor Phelps, Vivian Puter, Helen Weston, Eleanore Slatte, Rachel Warren, Grace Waldron, May Moffatt, Peggy Stowe, Beatrice Simpson, Edna Orr, Chlo Posey, Juanita Zech, Arline Johnson, Josephine Johnson, Margaret Hayne, Helen Knowlton, Juliette Mitchell, Edith Whitney, Marianne Mathews, Carmen Sutton, Ruth Kales, Rose Kales, Beulah Brigham, Gladys Brigham, Elsie Schilling, Edith Beck, Marguerite Vesper, Vita Vincent, Katherine Kutz Sevilla Hayden, Christine English, Clara English, Gladys English, Irene Bangs, Katharine Stone, Cornelia Stratton, Beasie Coghill, Mary Jurick, Bessie Fullmore, Lillian Reed, Minnie Conger, Dean Tisdale, Violet Wakefield, Noelle De Golla, Ruth Houghton, Lillian Isaacs, Louisa Hall, Tellulah Le Conte, Mary Le Conte, Charlotte Morrison, Ernestine Moller, Eleanor Molle, Ruby Richards, Vera Meyer, Laura Myer, Emily Marvin, Alice Andrew, Warren Holman, Nadine Belde, Anne McElrath, Dolly McGraw, Josephine Dewing, Ada Brown, Fanni Plaw, Margaret Ritchie, Gladys Meel, Rena Hoffman, Alma Perkins, Marcella de

York reporter. "I rise in the morning at 5 o'clock," said Wesley. "Perhaps I might sleep later if I could, but I have in recent years walked at that hour. I have exercise, then a breakfast, not a heavy one. After that I attend to my business affairs, and at night I go to bed at nine o'clock. These days I drive a good deal. No, I do not go horseback riding, but for many years that was one of my favorite means of recreation. Walking is the best of all. You ask what I consider the secret of success. The most important thing is to look a man always in the eye and tell the truth. It is not always easy, but it is the most satisfactory policy. If a man has the moral courage to do that he will find that things will go better for him in every way. Then he will not have to give his mind to devising plans for covering up the falsehood which we told. The truth is something which no man can tell with. Truthful to earth it will rise again. It is the duty of a man when he finds that something is going wrong, that those about him are dishonest to tell about it. It will wreck his own career if he does not. I have said that to several young men in whom I am interested, and I think that they have realized the necessity of that."

PREJUDICE AGAINST CO-EDUCATION.

Prejudice against co-education is growing space in the University of California, and I learn from a reliable source that an organized effort is to be made to secure an amendment to the charter with a view of raising the institution to the dignity of those universities that had the co-ed. The female seeker of high education has incurred the disfavor of the faculty. She does not seem to appreciate her privileges or the benefits to be derived. Too many of the young women are frivolous and troublesome. A little over a week ago a college paper advocated them for disinterment by leaving a room while being addressed by President Wheeler. It is said that some of them are more interested in getting husbands than in improving culture. And now some of the professors are beginning to regard them from the Schopenhauer viewpoint.—Town Talk.

TEARS OVER WHIST GAME.

I hear that the recent whist tournament given by the leading and charitable ladies of Alameda created an end of bitterness. Very handsome prizes were awarded, while there were also a number of other less desirable premiums. There were in all about one thousand persons seated at the tables engaged in the laudable pursuit of winning big cut glass punch bowls for their "homes." They were not very extraordinarily civil to each other during the game, but they were well-bred ladies then to what they were when the prizes were awarded, says the Wasp. They stood up on the floor and called each other all sorts of names, declaring that those who won were—well, not of the inner circle of the society elect. They shook their fists under the noses of the great dames who had provided the gambling outfit, and they did lots of stunts that were not according to Hoyle. One little woman wept bitter tears, lamenting the dollar—the big silver dollar—that she had squandered from her husband's fourteen-dollar-a-week salary.

Another engagement announced at a tea this week is that of Miss Mabel Cooley and Mr. Frederick Gowling. Miss Cooley is a graduate of Head's School, graduating with the last class. She is a very interesting girl, and was always very popular with her schoolmates. The tea was given at the Coolertown home on Telegraph avenue, and among the guests of the afternoon were Miss Ruth Houghton, Miss Villa Hayden, Miss Katherine Brown, Miss Ruth Kales, the Misses Hyde, Miss Else Schilling.

Mr. Frederick Gowling is a successful mining engineer. The wedding is set for the near future, and the young people are planning to make their home near the mining camp where Mr. Gowling's business interests are.

TO BE HER MAID OF HONOR.

Miss Isabelle Kendall has chosen Miss Letty Barry to be her maid of honor at the wedding in November. Miss Barry will entertain next week in honor of the bride-elect. It will be a large tea, for a great many invitations have been sent out, though mostly, of course, to the young girls of that special Friday Night set.

In the next month there will be many interesting dates for Miss Kendall, who will be a very pretty and popular bride-elect.

WILL GIVE AN AT HOME.

The large "at home" to be given for the benefit of the Social Settlement was of course postponed, when the sad news of the passing of Mr. Alexander was received from South Africa.

He was such a generous patron to the Settlement, giving it that beautiful building on Third street, and making it innumerable gifts besides. The Settlement can ill afford to lose its very best friend, and his loss is deeply felt.

The Settlement tea has been postponed till Friday, September thirtieth, and plans are being formulated to make it one of the most attractive and interesting "at homes" of the year.

MRS. SALISBURY AT THE PALACE.

Mrs. Monroe Salisbury is domiciled at the Palace for the winter. Society—that is, the younger section—is at fever heat of uncertainty as to whether she will manage the Fortnightlies this winter. Mrs. Salisbury, however, is a sphinx, for even her most intimate friends have not been told her intentions. All sorts of rumors are afloat as regards the Fortnightlies—one that Mrs. Salisbury is to manage them, but the price for the series is to be raised two or three times higher. The latest rumor, and one that our society folks seem to believe, is that Mrs. Salisbury will not take charge, neither will any member of her family. None of her children seem to have inherited the social instinct enough to enable them to aspire towards leadership. If the Fortnightlies are not to be given, society will have to depend upon the Assemblies and the Friday Night club dances for its terpsichorean pleasures. Mr. Greenway has already sent out his invitations for his dances, the first to take place November 4th,

MISS LETITIA BARRY WHO WILL BE HOSTESS TUESDAY AT A TEA PLANNED IN HONOR OF MISS ISABELLE KENDALL.

OAKLAND BREAKS RECORD.

Oakland breaks the record when it happens to be a matter of social affairs for philanthropy, or for a church.

We all have our pet philanthropic schemes, and if we wish people to help us we must even help them.

And the first affair on the season's list is the Fete Champetre, for the Chancery Chapters of St. Paul's Church.

Last year Miss Mona Crelin gave a handkerchief sale at the Crellin home, for the guild, and this year the details are planned on a larger scale. All who take an interest in the affair are welcome.

The grounds about the Howard residence lend themselves admirably to decoration, for the beautiful ground represents Nature's growth of years.

The booths are to be decorated, and many of them will show a gorgeous scheme of oriental coloring, beautiful in the late afternoon lights.

Among the well-known people who will be present, helping to make the affair a success, are Mrs. James Alter, Mrs. Harrison Clay, Mrs. Arthur Crellin, Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, Mrs. N. A. Acker, Mrs. Harry Meek, Miss Flora Brown, Mrs. James McCull, Miss Mona Crellin, Mrs. Elson Adams, Mrs. George Wheaton, and the Misses Ruth Kals, Ruth Knowles, Gertrude Alter, Ethel Crellin, Jane Barry, Noelle D. Golla, Ruth Houghton, Irene Bangs, Viva Nicholson, Anne and Peobe McElrath, Lucretia Burnham, Ada and Alma Brown, Bessie Coghill, Carolyn Oliver, Bessie Palmer, Marie Buttner, Jessie Fox, Ruth Mayor.

All sorts of pretty booths have been planned—booths for fancy work, for handkerchiefs, for candy, for lemonade, and the big grab-bag, always full of surprises.

The vaudeville performances have been given up, as there were no facilities for going on with it, and the young girls will assist in other booths. Admission to the grounds will be twenty-five cents, and the public generally will be made welcome.

WILL GIVE A COACHING PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Buttner will chaperone a coaching party today, or of the parties which they are to be for the day. Mr. Buttner is a famous whip, and people admire his skill in the big coach goes tooling along the country road. There is always a picturesque drive, and afternoon tea, at a country hotel or at one of the clubs. The Buttner entertain for the Misses Marie and Marguerite Buttner, who have had an ideal summer.

LIFE IN THE AUTUMN DAYS.

And so life goes on in the autumn days—for each day next week there is an interesting social date. There is plenty to do for every one, especially for those who make up the smart set. But such is life—especially life lived out as Society lives!

THE MEDDLER.

PRETTY WEDDING AT ST. MARK'S CHURCH.

Last evening St. Mark's Episcopal church of this city was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Miss Ethel Russell became the bride of George H. Shearer of San Francisco. The marriage took place at the home of Professor and Mrs. W. S. Morley on immediate friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, marked by extreme simplicity, which was performed by Rev. Charles Wakley of St. Paul's, Oakland, assisted by Rev. Hodges.

To the strains of the wedding march, played by Sam Mayer of San Francisco, the bridal party came down the aisle, first the maid of honor, then the little flower girl, Miss Alberta Haskell; the groomsmen and bridesmaids, Dan Corbett with Miss Nora Beatty, Renwick Brock with Miss Emma Moore, Arthur Farley with Miss Jean Stevens, and Ethel with Miss Montpellier. The maids were in rainbow colors, making a charming effect with the maid of honor, Miss Ida Robertson, who was dressed in soft white silk, and walked alone from the bride, carrying her bouquet in the arm of her father. She wore white satin. At the foot of the altar the groom met them, attended by his best man, Frank Whiting.

After the ceremony the company drove to the home of the bride, with an elaborate luncheon waiting. Under the skillful hands of Mrs. May Bates-McLean, who had performed the same service for the bride's mother, assisted by Miss Elva Montpellier and Miss Lucille Woltemberg, the house had been transformed into a haven of beauty with a rainbow color scheme. Late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Whiting slipped away on a short honeymoon. They will spend a few days in Berkeley on their return, then will leave for their distant home in the far Southland.

OPEN MEETING ENJOYED.

The open meeting of Oakland Lodge No. 128, Fraternal Brotherhood, held at Maple Hall last Thursday night, was as usual, a large success. The commodious hall was led to overflowing with the members and the guests of the lodge, and of whom enjoyed themselves to the utmost.

The grand march commenced at 9:15 o'clock, and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Excellent music was furnished by the Mancebo Orchestra, and cool lemonade was served throughout the evening. Some very handsome gowns were worn.

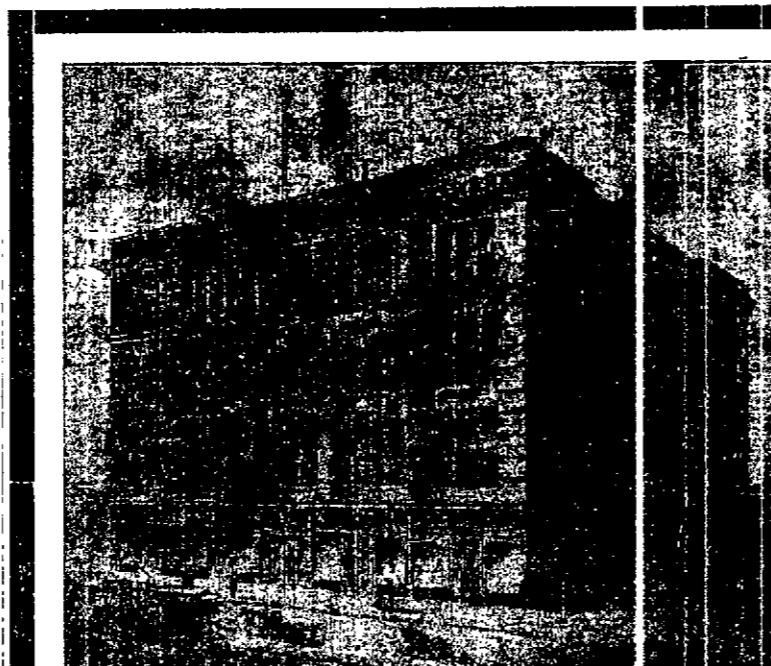

Next Thursday evening the "Red Brigade" of Oakland Lodge will entertain the many friends of the lodges at a delightful event, promised those who attend. A large number of invitations have already been sent out.

GAVE A RECEPTION.

A reception was given in honor of the Misses Jennie and Ida Hansler of Tennessee at the Misses Appledorn's beautiful home, 1110 East Nineteenth street, Wednesday evening. The home was elegantly decorated with ferns and carnations. The evening was spent in dancing and playing of games, and the young people enjoyed listening to the Misses Hanslers singing their latest Tennessee songs. Miss Ottie Appledorn, a graduate of Mills College, pleased her guests by giving a solo on the piano. Miss Emma Appledorn invited many taking advantage of Miss Leneche Appledorn's singing was greatly enjoyed by all. Others also did their share towards entertaining the company. The Misses Hanslers will leave for Los Angeles Thursday, where they will spend a few weeks with friends, after which they will return to Oakland, where they are visiting their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, of Berkley. On their return, Misses Ottie Appledorn and sister will give a large reception. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Berkley, Misses Jennie and Ida Hansler, Mrs. E. BOWLING TEAMS ORGANIZE.

JOIN HANDS SO THEY MIGHT BECOME MEMBERS OF AMERICAN CONGRESS.

Bowling enthusiasts held a meeting last Friday evening for the purpose of organizing an association to join the American Bowling Congress. The meeting was held in the rooms of the Alameda County Bowling and Athletic Association and was well attended.

The teams represented at the meeting were the following: Piedmont, Eagles, "O. W. W." of West Oakland, Palace, Bufaloes, Lizards, Eureka and Oakland Stars.

The election, which was a very spirited one, resulted in the selection of the following officers: A. W. Merrill, president; J. N. Bird, vice-president; W. H. Sherburn, secretary and L. G. Parker, treasurer.

The executive committee consists of the president, secretary, treasurer and two members, P. Johnson and A. W. Freeman.

A match of duck pins will be bowled between F. Finch and O. Overman at the Oakland alleys next Thursday evening at 9 o'clock. The contestants will bowl five games each, and the man making the most number of pins will be declared the winner. The general idea does not call for a large crowd, for the principals are known to be among the top-notchers in the game. The winner will be awarded a sum of $50.

The Piedmont Bowling Club met at the Syndicate alleys last night. Dr. Merrill was chosen president. Five elegant gold match safes were presented to last year's winning team, including Dr. Merrill, L. G. Parker, Harry Kellogg, and S. S. Bennett. The club was also reorganized for the coming season, and will meet for their club roll next Monday evening at the Syndicate alleys.

The bookmakers, who will speculate on the coming races to be held here next November, have notified the manager of the Oakland alleys that they will have two alleys in that resort reserved for their use at least three nights in the week.

Bowling is in full swing at the Palace. New players are on hand every night. All the bowling teams for the coming season will be organized next week.

The "All Stars," a crack aggregation of pin smashers at the Syndicate, will meet for their second game next Wednesday at the Syndicate alleys in order to get their bowling eve in shape for a match game to be rolled with the "All Stars" of the California alleys of San Francisco.

The agents of the Metropolitan Insurance Company have formed a bowling club and will make Thirteenth street alleys their home bowling grounds. They met for their first bowl last night, and will meet hereafter every Friday evening.

The Alameda Club will meet every Monday night at the Oakland alleys. This club is composed of about fifteen rollers, both ladies and gentlemen.

GOOD THINGS FROM THE WEEKLY PAPERS.Much Talk About the Arrival of the Lena—Ned Greenway's
Little Social Affair.

Society is all a-flutter over the invitations to the Friday Night Club that Ned Greenway has just sent out. The list was closed on September tenth. It is about the same as it was last year. In addition to the names of the debutantes are those of three young men. Mr. Greenway, I am told, had almost decided to abandon his dance this year because his business affairs engross nearly all his attention. To his wife agency he has added a brandy agency, and he is therefore compelled to mix his drinks, and after a day spent in extolling his rare vintages and giving practical illustrations of his confidence in his goods, he does not feel in the humor to caper nimbly over the glossy floor. Mr. Greenway is no Lehr. He is every inch a man, and most of his inches are in his waist measurement. He is no longer light and frisky in the dance. Chasing the glowing hours with flying feet has become a hard proposition to the veteran society leader. In the super-heated ballroom he tries in vain to fit. So he has begun to think that it is almost time for him to abdicate. He has enjoyed all the honors and laurels of leadership. The fripperies of the fashionable whirl have begun to pall on him. His record—a brilliant one—is complete. The so-called history of San Francisco is an amplified biographical sketch of Ned Greenway, the wine-deummer, who lowered the lid over for many a clamber and initiated some of the brightest of our provincial swells in the mists of the Holy of Holies—Town Talk.

WHEN IT WAS IN FLOWER.

It is well for the modern Sir Knights, spectacular representatives of a noble paternal order, to have their fling. It leases them and the trifled multitude and does no harm. But how different as it in the days when stout Godfrey de Boulogne and Robert Guiscard, count of Apulia, rode down to Tyre and Antioch and Ascalon. It was another tale when the shock of Christian forces and Payne's spear resounded from Edessa to Jerusalem. The plumes of belted knights and the mailed fists of crusading warriors were not, in those good old days, dyed feathers and hot-hilted gauntlets donned to please the gaping citizenry and the staring eye. The Knights of the Temple and of the Hospital of St. John were the soul thing in knighthood; they knighted Asia for the purpose of slaughtering Saracens, not to enjoy "the hospitality" of electric-lighted cities, richard of the Lion Heart had other business in hand when he challenged stout Saladin to single combat on the soft sands of Palestine, and Baldwin, rex Hierusalem, Latinorum primus, could cleave a Turk from the shoulder to the haunch as deftly as any modern Templar of the meat trust could butcher the hog of his pre-Templar and millionaire period. Put back the musty brocade on the dusty shelf, lay by the fog-eared Froissart, let John de Vitry and William of Tyre whisper their histories and tales to the kindly Arslan of De Guignes—the day of chivalry is gone forever—Town Talk.

A SCHOOL TEACHERS' UNION.

The very latest is a School Teachers' Union. It is the fruit of the brain of one Benham, sometime president of the San Francisco Labor Council. Incidentally, it is said, this Benham is the man who printed certain cards that were condemned by the Ministers' Association as too vile for utterance. Benham has addressed a circular to the teachers of the city to urge them to organize a union, to be affiliated with the State Labor Federation. The scheme, of course, will do abounding good. The teachers are intelligent citizens. They know that they are governed by local and State laws that cannot be abrogated by a mere whiff of labor agitators. They know, also, that though they are paid more than almost any similar body in the country Benham's circular invites them to join with him for their "protection and benefit." If they know what is good for them, and I think they do, they will leave Mr. Benham and all his ilk severely alone.—News Letter.

LAUGHABLE DISTINCTIONS.

I heard the other day that the Lambda Theta Phi of Oakland uses more broken ties than religion or politics. If two girls should go through schools together, from the kindergarten to the threshold of the High, one of them were to be "rushed" for the "Lambs" and the other not, their pathways would straightway diverge—a girl who is a "Lamb" may not associate with one of baser clay; that is one of the delightful by-laws of this enlightened democratic society. Not many weeks ago a prominent society woman was giving a dinner-dance for her young daughter. An intimate friend who had learned that the daughter's hitherto dearest friend was not among the invited guests, and who supposed that it was an oversight, approached the hostess of the affair and told her the circumstances, expecting, of course, that the matter would be remedied at once. Instead of that, the matron said sorrowfully:

"I wish there were no 'Lambs.' There is no use of pretending that I meant to invite the girl, for I didn't. Every other girl will be a 'Lamb' and she cannot come, for she would be a perfectly fiendish time."

"And you say that in your own house your daughter's most intimate chum of former days—would be insulted?"

"Slighted, rather," interupted the hostess—"sent to the child, realm of Coventry."

On another occasion a party of young girls, all "Lambs," were gathered on the piazza of a fashionable residence in East Oakland, when a very sweet girl, and one who was as well born and their equal in every way passed. She had been an inmate, too, of the little coterie until she was not "rushed" for the society that determines one's exact social status. The group on the piazza immediately set up a well defined line—an older and another—that almost broke up the neighborhood relations, and more than two families are not on speaking terms.—The Wasp.

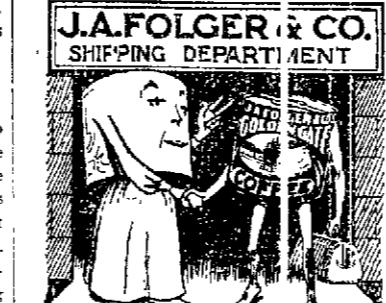

The lad looked at her incredulously and said, "You're foolin'!"—Town Talk.

A STAFF LIEUTENANT'S NERVE.

It is not at all necessary to prepare an Englishman to reach his sense of humor. The Earl of Euston, enjoying many little incidents of his visit during the Templars' Conclave, but the one he enjoyed telling most to the few good fellows who were modest enough to achieve sociability with him, occurred at the reception of Governor Pardee, at Hopkins' Institute. The Governor had a sort of his gallantly decked staff with him, among them Lieutenant Louis of Los Angeles, who represents the Naval Reserve heroes of the National Guard. When the Earl was introduced to the Governor, the Staff Lieutenant was still contemplating his own greatness, and failed to catch Euston's name. Louis is a genial chap, not at all proud, and with patrician democracy worthy of the Governor's best glad-hand campaigning days, said: "I beg your pardon, but I didn't catch your name." Euston smiled, with the grace of an English gentleman worthy to represent King Edward and all England's Templars, said: "I am the Earl of Euston." Lieutenant Louis turned on the glad-hand pressure and said: "Ah, Earl, I'm glad to meet you!"—News Letter.

pacter of Mr. Pulitzer's $20,000,000 school of journalism, and have arrived at the definite conclusion that the curriculum is fatally defective in one important particular. It is proposed to teach history, economics, English and other matters of that sort, but not a single word is said about instructing would-be editors in the noble art of self-defense. We warn Mr. Pulitzer that if he expects Western youth to patronize his school a department conducted by some giant of the fist world will be an absolute necessity. For look at the record of the last two years right here in San Francisco:

One editor shot in the left leg.

One editor knocked down and tramped upon with hobnailed shoes by an Alaskan miner after whom the editor had printed a story saying that the miner was educated by his sweetheart.

One editor beaten over the head by two brothers who had a sister.

One editor sandbagged by parties unknown.

We trust that Mr. Pulitzer will take note of the Argonaut's suggestion and immediately proceed to remedy the deficiency. No editor can write cogent and lucid editorials while suffering from abrasions of the scalp or bullet wounds in the leg.—The Argonaut.

CASE OF THE LENA.

Most of the excitement over the dramatic appearance in San Francisco harbor of the Russian cruiser Lena appears to have been in the newspaper offices. We have been on the verge of war with Japan—in the dailies. Complications with Russia were treacherous—in the dailies. International complications were likely—in the dailies. But, curiously enough, Mr. John Hay, Count Cossat and Minister Theriot were all singularly quiet and collected. The troublous scenes that have been in the newspaper editors were convinced that no Russian told the truth, and that what seemed likely was to be rejected with contempt for a theory based on wild guesses. The actual facts are plain enough. The Lena was with the Vladivostok fleet when it encountered the Japanese fleet along in August. She escaped, and was separated from the other vessels. On her attempt to re-enter Vladivostok harbor, she found it guarded by Japanese ships of superior ironclad and was obliged to turn back. To sail southward for shelter in a Chinese port was to invite capture by one of the many Japanese vessels well known to be ravishing in those waters. The condition of her hulls was such that she could not make a Russian port, and so the natural thing to do was to sell for this coast. It seems highly improbable that she was "lying in wait" for merchant vessels, for while her guns, though small, are capable of silencing a merchantman, any of them could outrun her. Besides, when she entered this harbor she had enough to last for two days and her bottom was foul. The best speed she can make is six or seven knots. The Japanese Government is neither angry nor likely to be. There appears no anger on the part either Captain Berthius or the Russian Government to hold up or decide Uncle Sam. In fact, it is more the direct request of Captain Berthius that the Lena is to be disengaged and other repairs are made, remain here until the end of the war. This is nothing complicated, nothing strange, nothing unanticipated about the matter. If the dailies had not each printed three columns of guesses for three days in succession, the average man would have had clearer idea about the "meaning" of the coming of the Lena.—The Argonaut.

THEY LOST THEIR WIVES.

Quite an amusing contretemps occurred last week during the Knights-Templar Conclave. Two Englishmen who were staying at the Palace hotel with their wives, had made an arrangement to dine at the Poodle Dog Restaurant, with their better halves.

The ladies had some shopping in Chinatown to do, so they dismissed their husbands and told them to meet them at the Poodle Dog at 6:30. While they were in Chinatown they asked the location of the restaurant. Thinking they meant the old Poodle Dog Restaurant, the guides showed them in here. The husbands went to the New Poodle Dog, and wondered what had become of their wives. They waited until 8 o'clock and became greatly alarmed.

They were more agitated when they returned to the hotel and did not find them there. Finally some one suggested that they go to the old Poodle Dog.

By this time it was half past nine, they found their wives sitting at one of the tables in most delighted attitudes. They had spent all their money in Chinatown, and did not even have ten cents to buy a sandwich.—The Wasp.
